Don't forget! You can send home learning work to y4homelearning@exwickheights.devon.sch.uk

PE

In PE you have been learning about floor routines in gymnastics (different balances, rolls and transitions). It is really important that a gymnast warms up correctly to avoid injury when they are performing these tricky moves. Can you design a suitable warm up routine for a gymnast? If you can name some of the core muscles groups that need to be warmed up and stretched we would be very impressed!

Science

Please write a set of instructions on how to clean your teeth and then explain why it is important to do this properly. Can you include labelled diagram of a set of teeth?

Maths

This week you have been learning to count in multiples of 25. Can you practise this skill at home? Try counting backwards and forwards from 2, 3 and 4 digit numbers. If you feel very confident with this, try answering these questions.

Look at these numbers:

157, 82, 107, 57, 132, 182

- If you put them in ascending order (smallest first), what would be the 6th number?
- If you continued the sequence, what would be the 9th number?
- Would the number 882 appear in this sequence? Prove it.

Write the correct spelling into each sentence.
